

PALMER THE MAN NAMED TO LEAD

Got The Gold Democratic Nomination For the Taking.

BUCKNER CHOSEN FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

President Cleveland Sends a Telegram Declining to Be a Candidate—Bragg Still Had Many Supporters—W. C.
P. Breckenridge Makes a Speech, and Wins Three Cheers From the Audience—Platform Declares For Gold In Unequivocal Terms.

SENATOR JOHN M. PALMER.

president, by the gold standard democrats, by acclamation.

The vote, as far as taken stood: Palmer 757, Bragg 124. Necessary to a choice 553.

General Buckner was also nominated for vice president, by acclamation, and the convention adjourned sine die.

President Cleveland had sent a telegram positively declining the nomination.

It is thought that the convention will get through today. There is a strong feeling in favor of Mr. Palmer of Illinois for president. In case he declines, General Black of Illinois, may be selected, although General Bragg has many supporters. Other delegates in considerable numbers, insist that Mr. Cleveland should be chosen if he will accept. General Buckner is apparently the unanimous choice for vice president, and it is said that Waterson's name will not be presented.

At 10:45 o'clock, it was announced that Mr. Palmer had positively declined to allow his name to be used, for personal reasons. The same statement is also made with reference to Mr. Cleveland.

The sub-committee on platform has not yet finished its labors. The financial plank is unequivocally for gold, but the wording of the pension and other planks is not yet agreed upon.

At eleven o'clock, the Illinois delegation went into caucus for the purpose of trying to get Mr. Palmer to withdraw his declination.

Convention Is In Session.

The convention was slow in assembling, but as prominent men entered the hall they were loudly cheered.
Senator Palmer received a great outburst of applause and General Buckner and Mr. Breckenridge were heartily received. The committee was called to order at 11:35 and it was stated that Alabama would yield to Michigan, when called, and that Michigan would present Senator Palmer's name.

The chairman announced that the committee on platform was not ready to report. There were loud cries for Breckenridge and he rose to speak.
Cheers and a few hisses greeted him.
He denounced the Chicago platform and said it condemned the executive simply because it was executive. He also scored the allusion to the supreme court in unmeasured terms.

Mr. Breckenridge's statement that the free silver democrats had taken it off the hands of "this or any convention, to elect McKinley" caused great applause. "We will be defeated at the polls, but we will save the honor of America," he said. [Great Applause.] When Mr. Breckenridge finished he was given three rousing cheers.

Mr. Warner Speaks.

Mr. Warner, of New York, was requested to address the meeting. He began speaking at noon and pointed out that the greater amount of comfort is placed within reach of the laborer. He also said there were many democrats in New York that will vote for McKinley, but they are not the New York delegation.

Mr. Latham of Missouri, took the platform to address the convention.
He said after legislation for years in favor of the iron barons of Pennsylvania, the Chicago party are now trying to give all to the silver barons of the west.

"Success is not always the duty of the citizen," he said. "His first duty is to be right and true to his country and his honor." [Cheers.]

Bryan of Indiana, was called to address the convention, and took the platform. His reference to Grover Cleveland as a man never known to capitulate or shirk a duty, called out a volume of applause. He said "we should not only adopt a platform setting forth the principles of real democracy, but we should also select candidates who fully represent and carry out these grand principles."

At 1:30 Comptroller Eckels took the platform to announce that the committee on platform had agreed, and would present it in a few minutes.

The Platform Adopted.

At 2:08 Senator Vilas presented the platform. It declares that the convention has met, that democrats may unite to avert disaster from the country and ruin for their party; that the Chicago platform attacks sound financial policy, that delegates to that convention abandoned, for republican allies, the democratic cause of tariff reform to court favor of protectionists; that delegates to this convention cannot support candidates of that convention, or be bound by its acts; that they cannot support Chicago candidates nor be bound by its platform.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 2.—The gold democratic convention was called to order at 12:37 o'clock Wednesday by Gen. John M. Palmer. Bishop White offered a prayer.

Secretary Thwaite read the call for the convention. Roll call of the states was then begun. Colorado responded with only one delegate, Montana the same. Nearly all the other states reported full delegations. At the call of New York seventy-two delegates stood up, Ohio also stood. Senator Palmer announced that there were forty-one states represented. The territories were then called. Alaska responded, also Arizona and New Mexico. Senator Palmer then called for the report of the national committee, which was made by Mr. Brennan of Wisconsin.

The report recommended the adoption of the rules of the "last democratic convention," which the report stated was held in 1892. It recommended Ex-Gov. Flower of New York for temporary chairman and John R. Wilson temporary secretary. Walter Kesler was recommended for temporary secretary-at-arms. The report was adopted unanimously. Ex-Gov. Flower then took the chair and made the usual address. References to President Cleveland were enthusiastically applauded.

Mr. Flower received three cheers when he closed, and then the list of members of the various standing committees was read. When the full list of members of the committee on credentials, resolutions, permanent organization and rules and order were handed in the convention took a recess until 4:30 o'clock.

Temporary Chairman Flower was as prompt as the sun in calling the convention to order for the afternoon session, and, without loss of time, called for the report of the committee on credentials. The chairman of the committee reported 824 regularly elected delegates present from forty-one states and three territories. The committee on permanent organization was not ready to report and Dr. William Everett of Massachusetts was brought to the platform to speak to the convention.

The committee on permanent organization recommended Senator D. Caffery of Louisiana as permanent chairman, and he was brought to the platform to be cheered by the convention and receive the gavel of power from Mr. Flower. His long and eloquent speech was enthusiastically applauded by the delegates.

After Senator Caffery, Mr. John P.
Irish of California addressed the convention, and the meeting adjourned, to meet again at 11 o'clock this morning.

The committee on resolutions was in session for nearly an hour and a half, and in that time it was developed that there is a wide disagreement between the members of the committee as to the form the declaration of principles should take. The sentiment and majority for a declaration for the single gold standard was rather surprising to those who hoped that something might be done favoring bimetalism under an international agreement. It is understood that the financial plank has been drawn by Secretary Carlisle, and declares distinctly for a single gold standard, and makes no apology whatever for the bond issues. It was finally determined to refer the matter to a sub-committee of seven, which, for various reasons, was increased to ten, and when completed was as follows: William F. Vilas, Wisconsin; C. Vey Holman, Maine; C. P. Lewis, New Jersey; V. P. Klein, Ohio; James H. Eckels, Illinois; Edward Cooper, Tennessee; T. G. Jones, Alabama; J.
P. Irish, California; H. W. Lamb, Massachusetts, and Albert Watkins, Nebraska.

PALMER IN THE RACE.

Illinois Senator May Be Nominated for President.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 3.—Senator John M. Palmer is now the slate candidate for the presidential nomination of the anti-silver democrats. He was placed on the slate at a caucus of the Illinois delegation, at which it was unanimously voted to support Gen. Palmer for the presidential nomination if he would only recede from the position he has taken in regard to going into the fight for the nomination. The running mate most mentioned for the Illinois senator is Gen. S. B. Buckner of Kentucky.

It is so generally believed that Mr.
Palmer will accept the nomination that the anti-silver democrats talk of him as assured of the nomination. Comptroller Eckels said he was satisfied.
Senator Vilas declared that Palmer would make an ideal candidate. The greatest objection came from the eastern delegations, who said that Mr.
Palmer had been a bolter before, and that fact would tend to weaken him, but, notwithstanding this, that if the middle western states wanted him they would support him.

In case that Senator Palmer refuses to accept the nomination there is a good deal of talk about Gen. John C.
Black, who, it is said, has given the leaders of the convention to understand that he would rather run for president on the anti-silver democratic ticket than for governor of Illinois.

There was a good deal of talk among the anti-silver democrats concerning the possibility of nominating Mr.
Cleveland. Mr. Griffin of the New York delegation wired the president for permission to place his name before the convention. Many of Mr. Clevelland's friends believe that this would be the utmost folly. The president would prove such a popular candidate, they claim, that he would insure the defeat of McKinley and possibly the election of Bryan. In the meantime the friends of Mr. Watterson have causioned, but they refuse to make public the result of the nose counting. They claim, however, that they have not yet given up hope. The Bragg boom, which Cleveland democrats have announced as dead, is still making no little noise.

The committee on resolutions is strictly a Cleveland organization.
Comptroller Eckels and Senator Vilas are leading the platform-makers. They said before the committee retired that the platform would be strictly a Clevelland platform, and that there would be no plank in it of which the president would not thoroughly approve.

Connecticut Republicans.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 3.—When the state republican convention met Wednesday the chief interest centered on the selection of the head of the ticket.
Of a total of 504 delegates less than a score were absent. Samuel Fessenden was elected as permanent chairman. The following ticket was nominated: For governor, Lorin A. Cook; for lieutenant governor, James D.
Dowell; for secretary of state, Charles Phelps; for treasurer, C. W. Grosvenor; for comptroller, E. P. Mead. The platform follows the lines of the republican national platform.

Cleveland Not a Candidate.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 3.—It is authoritatively announced that President Cleveland cannot be considered as a candidate in the convention.

STAND FOR GOLD.

Michigan Bankers Hear Papers and Adopt Resolutions.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 3.—The Michigan Bankers' association Wednesday transacted routine business and heard papers. Resolutions were adopted declaring that the honor of the country demands the retaining of "honest money." The election of officers resulted as follows: President, F.
W. Hayes, Detroit. Vice-presidents, C. T. Hills, Muskegon; Daniel Stry-ker, Hastings. Secretary, A. E. Wing, Detroit. Treasurer, George Stickney, Grand Haven. Executive council, Julius C. Hass, Detroit; E. W. Sparrow, Lansing; H. H. Knowlton, Cadillac; W. J. Gregory, Manistee; C. M. Hembhill, Ypsilanti. The next convention will be in Kalamazoo.

Tramps Try Train Wrecking.

Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 3.—Track Walker McGuire Wednesday discovered three tramps on the Columbia branch of the Pennsylvania railroad, between Shenk's Ferry and Pequa, in the act of placing ties on the track.
A special excursion train was almost due, and had it not been for the timely discovery a frightful wreck would have taken place. McGuire fired four shots at the tramps, and had removed the last tie, when the train thundered around the curve. One tramp was shot, but escaped, leaving blood-stained garments behind in the woods. There were over 300 persons on the train.

Superior Iron Mine on Fire.

Hurley, Wis., Sept. 3.—The Superior mine, about one mile west of here, is burning. The fire was discovered coming out of shaft No. 1 and soon the shaft was completely burned out. The fire is supposed to be near the fourth level, and spreading both ways. There is no way to fight the fire except to cover all the openings and smother it, which will take a month. The Superior mine ships the richest ore to had here, and is a valuable property, owned by the Odanah Iron Mining company.
The fire is supposed to have started from the candle of some careless miner.

John E. Gentry's Fast Mile.

New York, Sept. 3.—John R. Gentry defeated Robert J. Frank Agan and Star Pointer in the fastest harness race on record Wednesday at Fleetwood park, the gallant little son of Ashland Wilkes stepping the first heat in 2:03 3/4, the second in 2:03 3/4 and the third in 2:03 3/4.

NAME SILVERTHORN AS THEIR LEADER

WISCONSIN POPOCRATS HONOR THE WAUSAU MAN.

Fusion With the Populists On Several of the State Offices—Presidential Electors Are Named—The Platform Read By George W. Bird—Other Proceedings.

Governor—W. C. SILVERTHORN, D., Wausau.
Secretary of State—C. M. BUTT, Pop., Viroqua.
Insurance Commissioner—FRED W. THALL, Pop., Milwaukee.
Lieutenant Governor—RUBLEE A. COLE, Silver, Milwaukee.
Secretary of State—DR. FRANK POWELL, Silver, La Crosse.

Presidential Electors.

A. A. WORSLEY, of Racine, Pop.
LESTER WOODWARD, of Columbia, Pop.
G. SCHIRZINGER, of Fond du Lac, Pop.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 3.—The forces of the triple alliance made up of democrats, populists and silver republicans will confront the gold army in this state. It is a complete fusion of all the silver forces of Wisconsin, and insures a solid vote for Bryan presidential electors, and a division by which Watson will get three of the twelve names on the electoral ticket.
The fusion agreement embraces the state ticket, the populists getting the secretary of state and insurance commissioner, and the silver republicans the lieutenant governor. The democrats retain the governorship and the rest of the ticket.

The fusion of these three political parties was brought about at a joint conference at the Plankinton house club-rooms Wednesday afternoon from 4 until 7 o'clock. At night the various conventions voted to abide by the agreement.

The democratic state convention was called to order in the Pabst theater at 11 o'clock by Chairman Peck, who introduced F. W. Cozhausen of this city as the temporary chairman.

It was 5:30 o'clock when the committee on resolutions reported. George W. Bird of Madison read the platform.
It was as follows:

"We, the democrats of Wisconsin, in convention assembled, hereby ratify and endorse the nominations and platform made by the democratic national convention, held at Chicago in July last, and pledge to the support of our standard bearers, William Jennings Bryan and Arthur Sewall, the entire strength and energy of the democracy of the state.

"We believe that a nation of 70,000,000 free men, determined to secure and enjoy its liberties, is able to maintain a financial policy of its own. America was always a leader, never a follower.
We therefore declare that the interests of the people of the United States imperatively demand the restoration of the free coinage of silver as it existed at the time of the demonetization in 1873, and, that, too, without waiting the consent of any other nation on earth, and we cordially invite all persons, irrespective of party, to join us in securing the triumph of this principle, so closely connected with the prosperity of our countrymen.

"That while we recognize the rights of all classes of our citizens to vote as their convictions dictate, we enter our solemn protest against the moneyed and corporate interests in their attempt to control this election by intimidation and corruption. We therefore look with great apprehension upon the fact that the republican campaign in the west is placed under the immediate direction and control of a recognized oppressor of labor and corrupter of legislation; and we especially insist at this time upon the right of free speech and the largest freedom of action."

The democratic convention reassembled at 8 o'clock, the galleries and boxes again being packed. Chairman Peck, who as chairman of the state central committee was chairman of the democratic conference committee, reported the recommendation of the committee. It was voted to adjourn to 9:30 o'clock this morning, when the men named by the convention will be placed on the ticket and the rest of the state officer nominated.

The populist convention was called to order shortly before 11 o'clock. It was the largest convention of the party ever seen in this state, and all but three counties in the state were represented by delegates present. Col. C. M.
Butt of Viroqua was temporary chairman and A. A. Worsley of Sylvania, Racine county, and C. M. Boyles of Wausau were temporary secretaries.
There was a lively talk over the fusion question, and a vote finally showed that the convention was overwhelmingly in favor of it. The platform indorsed that of the national convention of the party.

The convention of the silver party was called to order by Rublee A. Cole, who was at one time a prominent republican worker.

TOLEDO PEOPLE HEAR BRYAN.

Popocratic Candidate Speaks At the Ohio City Negroes Present.

Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 3.—The Bryan meetings here Wednesday night are said by those who have followed the candidate's tour through Ohio, to have been the largest in point of numbers of all of them. Mr. Bryan and his wife arrived over the Ohio Central from Ce-lumbus at 5:08 o'clock, after one continuous ovation en route. Great crowds massed at various points along the way, and hundreds gathered at Kenton and came through on special trains to Toledo. Several hundred went from this city to meet the Bryan train. The train was met at the depot by a drum corps and bands of music, headed by Elmer White as chairman of the county democratic central committee. All progress on the streets and street railways was stopped. From the depot to the Boody house, nearly half a mile, the whole distance was packed so closely it was almost impossible for the carriages bearing Mr. and Mrs. Bryan and members of the reception committee to work its way through. As the carriage reached the hotel in front of the government building cheer upon cheer arose from thousands of throats.

Never was mortal man accorded a more flattering reception. By 7:30 all travel was stopped on the streets in the central part of the city. It was impossible for pedestrians to move about in that part of the city.

The meeting had been scheduled to be held on the high school grounds, and as early as 4 o'clock in the afternoon people were gathering at that point and securing the best seats possible. By 7 o'clock there were at least 20,000 persons gathered on the prominent plateau where the meeting was to be held. By 8 o'clock, according to conservative estimates, that number had been fully doubled. Some even fixed the assemblage as high as 75,000, as there was one mass of people as far as the eye could reach by aid of the electric lights in every direction. People trampled upon each other in their eagerness to see and hear.

Mr. Bryan was suffering from a severe cold and could not be heard distinctly at any great distance from the platform, which was raised about twenty feet from the ground. Several women were crushed and trampled beneath the feet of the surging multitude, and in several instances were handed over the heads of others in a fainting and injured condition. It had first been decided to hold but one meeting in this city, but in order to satisfy the demands of the people a late arrangement was made to hold a second brief meeting in Memorial hall, near by, at the close of that held on the high school grounds. The campaigning party left Toledo at 7:30 o'clock this morning for Adrian, Mich., where he is billed to speak. From there he goes to Elkhart, and then to South Bend, Ind.

Springfield, Ohio, Sept. 3.—Twenty thousand persons greeted the nominee at Springfield, and cheered him from the time he left his train until the police finally fought a way for him to the train bearing him to Toledo. A stop was made here of an hour, an instant that Mr. Bryan was crushed by the mob more than at any time during his trip. He made a short speech.

Jones Completes His Committees.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Senator James K.
Jones, chairman of the democratic national committee, has completed the list of the members of the campaign executive and advisory committees of the national committee. The new members of the campaign committee are William A. Clark and James Kerr.
The ninth member has not yet been appointed, but it is understood that H. W. Cornell of New York, a son of ex-Gov. Alonzo Cornell of that state, will be selected. This practically completes the democratic national organization and names the men who will be responsible for the management of the campaign, which is to be pushed with redoubled energy during these last two months prior to the election.

Girl Drinks Carbolic Acid.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 3.—Ella Sappers, aged 17, of Riley, this county, committed suicide Wednesday by swallowing carbolic acid. She also poured the acid over her face, destroying both eyes. Her mother's death in the west a year ago left her an orphan. Since then she has lived with her uncle, John Reese, a wealthy farmer. Unrequited love is supposed to have led to the act.

Take Radical Action.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 3.—Lodge No.
6, Painters and Decorators, has adopted the new constitution passed at the Chicago convention, and referred to the various lodges for adoption. The new constitution provides that no mil-litarian, deputy sheriff, or special officer who may be employed by corporations in time of strikes can become a member of the organization.

Posse Kills a Desperado.

Pikeville, Ky., Sept. 3.—In attempting to capture George O. Quinn, a Virginia desperado, who had killed Everett Fowler in Russell county, Virginia, a week ago, the posse fired on him, killing him instantly. Quinn was surrounded by the posse and made a deperate fight before he was killed.

Is Not Sold as Canned Beef.

Washington, Sept. 3.—According to United States Consul Johnson at Antwerp there is no truth in the story which so excited American meat packers to the effect that broken-down English omnibus horses are killed and packed at Antwerp as canned beef under American labels.

Much Gold on Board.

New York, Sept. 3.—The North German Lloyd Steamship company announces that it has received a cablegram saying that the steamer Trave, which sailed from Southampton Wednesday for this port, had on board $2,250,000 gold.

THE G. A. R. VETERANS IN LINE ONCE MORE

OLD SOLDIERS AGAIN MARCH SHOULDER TO SHOULDER.

Grand Parade At St. Paul Yesterday Passes Through More Than Two Miles of Streets—Commander-In-Chief Walker Reviews the Procession—Facts About Reunion.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 3.—In recent years it has been thought necessary to shorten the length of the grand parade of the old soldiers, and this year's parade exceeded two miles by but a trifle, and as it was over smooth streets and easy walking no ill effects were anticipated from the tramp.

The various divisions formed on the streets that cross Western avenue, and when the final gun was fired, shortly after 10 o'clock, the parade began to move south from Dayton and Western, moving south to Summit, the various divisions falling in as the column passed.

Gen. Walker and staff headed the parade, which consisted of eight divisions. The first division, led by the veteran signal corps, included the departments of Illinois, Wisconsin and Pennsylvania.

As the head of the parade turned down broad Summit avenue, the old veterans straightened their shoulders and tried to renew their youth, lining up as of old when they had been able to turn a corner in a straight line. The avenue was crowded on both sides with spectators, who applauded favorite posts or favorite leaders and now and again a cheer went up for the fine appearance of some of the less known posts.

The column swept on down the avenue, past the mammoth residence where were the ladies' headquarters, in front of the big reception stand in Summit park and under an evergreen arch erected at the head of Sixth street by the colored citizens of St. Paul. The long column of veterans turned down Sixth street past the numerous grand stands with their many thousands and the crowded sidewalks, the greeting cheer following along the line as the more prominent leaders were recognized. At the vacant end of the square on which is being constructed the new government building there has been put up a grand stand for 2,000 children, whose red, white and blue capes and toques were so arranged as to form a living flag.

At the lower end of Sixth street the reviewing stand had been erected and when Commander-in-Chief Walker arrived here he left the line and took his place on the stand, where he returned the salutes of the veterans as they passed by and were dismissed on the adjoining streets.

When the parade was over H. S.
Dietrich, chief of staff, presented a magnificent badge to Commander Walker on behalf of his staff. A badge was also presented to Commander Dietrich. It is a unique and tasteful piece of workmanship and, like that presented to the commander-in-chief, was the gift of the national staff.

Maj. Thaddeus S. Clarkson of Omaha leads in the race for the office of commander-in-chief of the Grand Army. Within the last twelve hours his boom has grown so rapidly that his friends are now counting noses and telling how it will happen. The day also witnessed the demise of the boom of Admiral Meade as a dangerous candidate for the office. The only man strictly in the race against Maj.
Clarkson is John C. Linehan of New Hampshire. The west is fighting the east. The candidacy of Judge Joshua Given of Iowa is not regarded as anything more than a compliment from his closest friends and his department.
When the lines are drawn between the east and west Iowa will probably cast a solid vote for Clarkson. The men from the west of New York are so earnest in their desire to secure the encampment of 1897 for Buffalo that they have offered to help the west if it will give them its support.

Hundreds of Knights Present.

Minneapolis, Sept. 3.—A roster of the Uniform Rank, K. P., now in the encampment at Camp Yale was completed Wednesday night. Six states are represented—Illinois with six regiments, thirty-three divisions and a band; Wisconsin, with three regiments eighteen divisions and a band; Iowa with four regiments, fifteen divisions with four regiments, fifteen divisions; Minnesota, with two regiments, twenty divisions; North Dakota, with two divisions, and South Dakota, Missouri and Michigan, with from one to three independent divisions, making in all ninety-five divisions represented, and over 3,500 knights in attendance.

Latest Returns from Vermont.

St. Albans, Vt., Sept. 3.—With only five towns to be heard from, Maj.
Josiah Grout, the republican candidate for governor, has a plurality of 38,81 received in Tuesday's election. The missing towns are Brunswick, Lan-grave, Sherburn, Somerset and Wes-field, and may not be heard from for several days.

Will Meet at Indianapolis.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 3.—The Spreme Lodge Knights of Pythias decided that the next meeting will be

FELL FIFTEEN FEET FROM A SCAFFOLD

J. J. VOORHEES, AND A JANESVILLE MAN HURT AT BELOIT.

Neither Were Seriously Injured, However—Had Two Fires at Once—Prohibition Candidate For Vice President to Speak—Public Schools Open—The Paving Contract Begun.

Beloit, Sept. 3.—Three workmen at the new Presbyterian chapel got a bad fall and it is a wonder that they escaped with so little injury. Messrs. J. J. Voorhees and a man named Taylor whose home is at Janesville, were on a high scaffold putting up the wooden ceiling of the second story and E. B. Estes was painting from the same platform, when one of the horses supporting it broke and let all three to the floor. Mr. Voorhees and Mr. Taylor were badly bruised and shaken up by the fall.

Beloit, Sept. 3.—Fire broke out in an old barn on the unoccupied premises, No. 390 Bridge street, owned by A. Bennett and at the same time the kitchen of J. W. VanBeynum's house, a block west took fire. The firemen got two streams of water quickly on the burning barn and then the wagon went on to the house, but the fire there was put out by neighbors before their arrival. The barn was burned down. It was of little value. The cause of the fire is unknown.

THE WEEK'S EVENTS AT FAIRFIELD. Opinions Differ as to Buffalo Bill's Show—Other News Notes.

Fairfield, Sept. 3.—This vicinity was well represented at the "big show," and varied opinions are expressed in regard to it. Miss Anna La Grange, of Janesville, spent a portion of last week with her cousin, Miss Frances Wilkins. Miss Elma Fryer has been visiting friends at Sharon. Painters have finished work on J. T. Cutler's residence. Mr. Stone and family, of Darien, were entertained at G. Fryer's last week. Miss Nettie Coon, of Milton, has been spending the past two weeks with her sister, Mrs. Earl Wetmore. The annual election of the Fairfield Sunday school will be held on Monday evening of next week. Miss Fanny Smith opened the fall term of school in the Dykeman district this week. The village school opens next Monday, Sept. 7, with Miss Gertie Capen again at the helm. The many friends of Mrs. John Dykeman were pleased to see that she had so far recovered from her recent illness, as to attend church last Sabbath. Edwin W. Serl of Delavan, expects to occupy the Fairfield pulpit Sunday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. David Dykeman is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Holmes of Chicago. The auction on the farm of the late Theron Cutler, was largely attended last Tuesday. Charles Dykeman will move from the E. G. Chesbro farm into one of his father's houses, this week. Henry Houston and family expect to leave soon for their new home in Delavan.

NO OPPOSITION AT PORTER.

Very Few People wear the Free Silver Buttons.

Porter, Sept. 3.—The political tea kettle is beginning to boil here and elsewhere. It is not supposed that at election time, that there will be much opposition in this town, although there are a few wearing "free silver" buttons now. Most of our teachers are attending institute in Evansville this week. A marriage is being whispered by "dame rumor." Miss Nellie Kennedy of Chicago, is visiting her parental home. Richard Stearns is shaking hands with his old friends. Next Monday being "Labor Day" most of the district schools will not commence until Tuesday. Miss Mamie Dooley is spending the week with relatives in the Bower City. Willie Lawler is spending a few weeks here. What can be the attraction? Mrs. Phifer, of Edgerton, accompanied by a lady friend, was a welcome visitor on Friday. William Dooley returned to his home last Monday after a week's visit with relatives here and in Janesville.

HORSE SUFFERS GREAT PAIN.

F. B. Granger's Horse Was Seriously Burned at the Recent Fire.

Frank Granger's horse, which was recently quartered in the first ward fire, is now quartered in a box stall in Dr. E. D. Roberts' hospital, on Bluff street. At the time of the fire the horse broke from the yard, and the next morning he was found by a farmer, up on Milton avenue. The case is a most peculiar one, and Dr. Roberts says that it is a wonder that a horse can stand so much suffering. The animal's sides are one mass of blisters, while the skin has peeled off in a number of places. The animal is receiving the very best of care, and if such a thing is possible, a cure will be effected.

EDWARD EHLE MAKES CENTURIES

Chicago Man Doing Much Riding About Janesville These Days.

Edward Ehle, formerly of this city, but now of Chicago, can truly be classed as a century rider of the first class order. Mr. Ehle made one hundred miles in the phenomenal time of seven and one-half hours, but this record was made on the Chicago course, where the roads are built for the purpose. Since coming to Janesville for a visit he has made three century runs, visiting Oconomowoc and Woodstock. Yesterday he traveled to Waukesha, and is at present the possessor of fourteen century bars. He will easily add a half dozen more before his departure from the city.

LOW TARIFF AND LOW PRICED OATS

Farmers Do Not Get the "McKinley Prices" Now-a-Days

During the past few days oats have been leaving the city in car load lots for Chicago and Milwaukee, local grain dealers being the shippers. In spite of the fact that these shipments have been frequent, a local shipper remarked to a Gazette man that oats that cost him thirteen cents here, brought but fourteen or sixteen cents in Milwaukee and Chicago. There is very little money in the business, he says. The local market is about as dull as it has been in many a day. During the past few days local dealers have purchased oats of the farmers for as low as twelve cents a bushel.

Mr. Taylor was graduated from Milton college in 1884, has served for several years as one of its trustees, and has been a generous donor to its funds, says The Journal. He was, for two or three times, the county superintendent of Walworth county, and is now a prosperous farmer and fruit raiser in Missouri. Miss Wooster has taught a number of years in the public schools of Milwaukee.

MAKE THE MOST OF DULL SEASONS

Wide Awake Business Men Find They Hold Out Opportunities of Profit

In dull times it is much harder to bring people to the store, but that is one reason why more advertising should be used or better ads. should be used.

If possible in dull seasons, more inducements should be held out to the customer than in brisk seasons. More care should be used in selecting articles to be advertised and more thought should be given to ads. to bring trade to your store, but however you may view this subject, do not in any circumstances drop your advertising entirely when the dull season comes.

If you discontinue advertising entirely, you are leaving out some of the bricks in the wall which you are constructing and will lose a large portion of the benefits of cumulative ads when you begin again, there having been a disconnection in what you did before and that which you now intend to do.

The benefits to be derived from advertising are in the future as well as what you may get at the present. Advertising is something like making a snowball—the farther you go the bigger it grows. If, after you have rolled your snowball a little distance, you stop rolling it, and begin another one, you are expending an extra labor instead of accumulating, while if you had kept on rolling the old ball it would soon grow to much larger proportions than any new one you could start.

In dull times, as we have said, more care than ever should be used in the operation of the ads. When the fish is harder to catch, be more careful in selecting your bait.—Dry Goods and Chronicle.

WHY THEIR MONEY IS SCARCE

An Explanation of the Stringency in the Money Market.

The man who says he doesn't believe in advertising and refuses to use the newspapers for that purpose, generally advertises in some way or other. Hotel registers, theatre programmes and such things are likely to have his ad in them. Then he charges what he pays in space in them to charity or to profit and loss, and goes on swearing that advertising doesn't pay. There ought to be a Keckley Institute or a hospital for the treatment of this class of lunatics, and if some enterprising man will start one, we will tell him where to find patients enough to fill it in about fifteen minutes.—Brains.

A motto for working men and women:

"A dollar's worth of dollar for a dollar's worth of work."

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1588—Richard Tarleton, most noted English comedian before Shakespeare's time and jester to Queen Elizabeth, died.

1688—Sir Edward Coke, the famous English lawyer and defender of the people's rights, died; born 1628.

1728—Matthew Boulton, partner of James Watt and almost equally celebrated inventor, born at Birmingham, England;

died 1809.

1752—New style in the calendar adopted in England and her colonies; 11 days added to all previous dates of that century.

1878—One of the most frightful river collisions on record took place on the Thames at London: the favorite river steamer, Princess Alice, carrying 700 or 800 excursionists, was run down and cut in two by a collier; over 700 persons drowned.

1881—General Ambrose Everett

Burnside, commander of the Army of the Potomac at the battle of Fredericksburg, died; born in Indiana 1824.

1894—Josiah Parsons Cooke, Harvard's great chemist, died at Newport, R. I.; born 1827.

HARD ON THE CONSUMER.

What free silver would do in the United States by driving out all the gold and leaving only one kind of money, it has already done for Mexico. Senor Jose Limantour, Mexican minister of finance, draws striking comparisons between workingmen in Mexico and the United States, and says of his own country:

"Every ounce of gold we produce is immediately drawn out of our country by foreign nations, or is locked up in our vaults as the property of foreigners. Mexico has had four gold bond issues since 1888, and a number of domestic silver bond issues. The gold bond issues aggregate about $100,000,000. Most of the bonds bear six per cent interest.

"The interest on the gold bonds amounts to about $6,000,000 in gold annually, but when the time comes around to pay the interest we have to give up $12,000,000 of our money. So we really pay double interest on our loan. Then the question presents itself, what amount will it take to redeem the bonds at maturity? It is a guess now as to what we will owe at the time of redemption. It's all according to what our dollar will bring in the markets of the world.

"We have two elements in Mexico.

The exporters, who send to the other countries great quantities of coffee, tobacco and fruits, want to see silver kept down, as they receive gold for their exports, and with that gold they can purchase about twice the amount of their sales in Mexican money. The consumers want to see the price of silver rise, for then the silver dollars which they carry in their pockets would be worth more, and they would not have to pay so much for foreign goods, much of which is shipped into the country."

they got it, is not likely to become popular over here

THE TWO CLASSES.

The free silver advocates claim that silver is the money of civilization.

Which represents the higher civilization, the better business or labor conditions—the twenty-four nations using gold or those using silver? We place side by side a list of the gold countries and a list of the silver:

GOLD STANDARD. SILVER STANDARD.

Great Britain, Mexico, Russia,

France, Germany, Central American States, Belgium, South American States,

Italy, Japan, India, China, Spain, Straits Settlements,

Roumania, Portugal, Serbia, Austria-Hungary, Netherlands, Canada, Norway, Sweden,

Denmark, Turkey, Australia,

Egypt, Hayti, Bulgaria,

United States.

A Maine man says it would be easy to convince the farmers of that state that they can make maple sugar out of buttermilk as to convert them to free silver.

Suppose you increase a man's pay 25 per cent and pay him in money which has depreciated 50 per cent., where does his gain come in?

If organized labor takes the advice of two of its ablest leaders—

Arthur and Powderly—it will vote solidly for McKinley.

McKinley's speeches appeal to man's reason; Bryan's to their passion and prejudice.

Justifiable.

"It has been proved," said the justice, "that you tried to kill this man. Have you any special grudge against him?"

"Your honor," replied the prisoner,

"I am a married man."

"That is totally irrelevant to the point at issue in this—"

"That's where you're wrong, your honor," interrupted the prisoner. "I am a married man, trying to worry along on a small salary, and I was informed that this man devotes his entire time to devising new fashions in all kinds of women's garments."

"Case dismissed," said the justice, promptly. "The attack was justified."

—Chicago Post.

Made Up in Satisfaction.

He was the meanest man in town, and the druggist's clerk hated him accordingly. He came into the store and asked for arsenic.

"How much?" said the clerk.

"Five cents' worth. I want to poison a dog with it."

"Oh, ah," politely smiled the clerk;

"you want to commit suicide, I perceive."

He didn't wait for the poison after that, and the clerk lost a sale, but he made it up in satisfaction. —

Texas Sifter.

No Chance for Deception.

"What do you think about the young man who wants to marry Mary?"

he asked.

"He seems very energetic and steady," replied his wife. "But you can't always tell. Do you know anything about him?"

"I know all about him."

"There may be things he has concealed from the world."

"No, there ain't. He's run for office two or three times." —

Washington Star.

Prompt Acceptance.

"Mrs. Weeds," said Mr. Huggins,

"I asked your daughter to marry me, and she referred me to you."

"I'm sure that's very kind of Susie, but then she always was a dutiful girl. Really, Mr. Huggins,

I hadn't thought of marrying again at my time of life; but, since you insist, suppose we make the wedding day next Thursday week." —N. Y. World.

A Way They Have.

"You can say what you like about it, and call me superstitious," said Luke Pleasant; "but I will never let an engaged couple sit in a game of poker with me."

"Why not?" asked Jack Potts.

"They are sure to be holding hands all through the game." —

Brooklyn Life.

It Has Its Uses.

"It was a great mistake to do away with the practice of dueling," he said, with a sigh.

"I don't see why," she protested.

"Oh, we're overrun with fools now, and there's no decent and proper way for them to kill each other off." —Chicago Post.

Out there upon the lawn it was ornamental till, one day,

Some one sat down upon it.

NEITHER ENDORSED BY THE CAUCUS

BABBITT AND WILLIAM SMITH BOTH CANDIDATES.

So the First District Delegates, After Much Talk, Adjourned Without Naming Either as the Choice of the Representatives From This Vicinity.

Janesville popocrats took quite a prominent part in the state convention yesterday, at Milwaukee.

Andrew Kull of Lake Geneva, called the First district caucus to order and briefly stated the object of the meeting. He said he was a stayer to fight the common enemy to the bitter end, and to settle faction fights in the democratic party afterwards. For this reason he advised holding out the olive branch to the gold democrats as far as possible. Mr. Kull was elected chairman and R. M. Richmond of Evansville, secretary. There was a little contest for a place on the state central committee, P. J. Mout of Janesville, James H. Hogan of Lafayette and Louis G. Bohmrich of Racine, being nominated. Mr. Mout was elected. John Winans called attention to the fact that Rock county had a candidate for attorney general in the person of William Smith, and he hoped the district would endorse him.

Endorsement Not Given.
A resolution was voted on endorsing him, and then Cornelius Buckley of Beloit, moved that the name of Clinton Babbitt, of Beloit, candidate for governor, be substituted as the First district candidate. Mr. Winans said that the die had been cast so far as governor was concerned, and he felt that as Mr. Babbitt had not come before the Rock county convention asking support it should not be given to him. There was a whole lot of talk, and finally John Winans withdrew the motion endorsing Smith, and the caucus adjourned.

The Milwaukee Journal printed an excellent picture of William Smith, although the name "C. F. Kalk," is printed under it.

Mr. Winans was interviewed, and The Journal says: "John Winans, of Janesville, arrived at noon, and was warmly greeted by everybody. 'I think we will gain republican votes in Rock county,' he said, 'and will lose very few from gold democrats. In fact, I only know eight or ten of the latter.'"

SUIT IS DISMISSED BY SUPREME COURT

ANOTHER WATER CASE CHAP-TER IS CLOSED.

The Matter of the Receivership Ends In the Discharge of George G. Sutherland by Stipulation, and Without Costs—The Action Was Taken at Madison Yesterday.

Another chapter in the litigation between the city of Janesville and the Janesville Water Company, was closed, when the supreme court yesterday dismissed an appeal, by stipulation, without costs. The stipulation was as follows:

STATE OF WISCONSIN—IN SUPREME COURT S.—On Appeal from the Circuit Court for Rock County. The City of Janesville, Plaintiff, Vs. The Janesville Water Company, the Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Company, as Trustee, and the Wisconsin Construction Company, Defendants. It is hereby stipulated and agreed between the parties to the above entitled action that the proceeding for the appointment of a receiver for the Janesville Water Company, said action, be and the same is hereby withdrawn and dismissed, and

It is hereby further stipulated and agreed that the appointment of George G. Sutherland as receiver for said Janesville Water Company, be and the same is hereby vacated, and said George G. Sutherland, be and he is hereby discharged as such receiver, and It is further hereby stipulated and agreed that the appeal from the order of the Circuit court for Rock county appointing said Sutherland, now pending in said Supreme court, be and the same is hereby dismissed, and It is hereby further stipulated that no costs shall be taxed against or in favor of any of the parties to this action, in said proceeding for the appointment of a receiver, or on said appeal. Dated, April 23, 1898.

H. M'ELROY,
City Attorney of the City of Janesville, for M. G. Jeffers of Counsel, for said city in said Proceeding.
E. M. HYZER, Attorney for Janesville Water Company.

The dismissal of this action ends the receivership matter. When George G. Sutherland was appointed receiver, the water company appealed. This prevented Mr. Sutherland from acting as receiver, pending the hearing before the supreme court. Although he has not acted as receiver, and could not so act while the appeal was pending, the appointment was still in force. Yesterday's action discharges him, and revokes the appointment.

The action to secure an accounting under the provision of the franchise is still in court, although it is now said to be very doubtful if anything more is ever heard of it.

LECTURED ON LANGUAGE WORK

Professor Otto Cohahn's Discussion of the Natural Method

Professor Otto Cohahn explained the "Natural Method" of language teaching last evening before an audience of two hundred people in the Y. M. C. A. lecture room. The system, he declared, was that which made children such proverbially apt pupils. He explained the theory in detail and followed with a convincing demonstration. Classes in French and German were organized this afternoon and will meet four days each week in the Caledonian rooms.

FOUR MORE FREE TRIAL LESSONS

In German and French Friday and Saturday at 4 and 7:30 p. m. at Caledonia Hall.

For those who missed the illustration lecture of Prof. Cohahn last night and who are interested with a view of taking the courses, four more free trial lessons will be given tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday at 4 and 7:30 p. m., at Caledonia Hall. Actual work will begin Monday, Sept. 7 at the same place.

Matting Sale For Saturday.

We expect to stardle the natives, so to speak, on the subject of matting for Saturday. Forty full roles will be closed out that day at 50 cents on the dollar, exactly half price, the sale to last but one day, and without doubt the entire lot will go during that day. We have talked it up a few days in advance so that everybody may have an opportunity of looking up their supply of matting and avail themselves of a chance such as does not make its appearance many times during the year. 20c matting will be sold at 10 cents, and so on down the list as far as the 50c line, they all go at the half price figure. Don't forget the day, Saturday, September 5. Bort, Bailey & Co.

COAL MEN FORMED

A LOCAL COMBINE

WILL REGULATE PRICES AND BLACKLIST BEATS.

J. W. Carpenter Is President, and F. A. Spoon Secretary—Cutting of Rates Caused the Organization—Rockford and Beloit Men Complained—Price Raise 1 to $8 a Ton.

Janesville has a coal combine.

It has been formed for the purpose of regulating the prices and for protection against dead beats.

The following officers were appointed at a meeting held in the office of the Janesville Coal Company.

President—John W. Carpenter

Secretary—Frank A. Spoon.

An executive committee was appointed consisting of William H. H. Macdon, August Huggs, Peter Neusses and John Plowright.

Before this combine was formed, local dealers were selling at different prices and it is said there was very little money in the business for any of them. The coal war was started last June when one firm sold some seven hundred tons in this city at $7 a ton, to be delivered when wanted, but at the same time they agreed that if the price went lower they would allow a rebate.

At that local dealers were not making a cent, they said, but in order to get any trade at all others cut the price to $6.75. This made the firm in question give a rebate of twenty-five cents a ton on all they had sold.

Beloit and Rockford dealers then came to this city, complaining that Rockford and Beloit people were buying their coal here. Contractor Bidwell, of Rockford, then set to work to get things in better shape, and as the result of his work, peace now reigns.

A local dealer was asked about the matter this morning, and said that as long as the matter had become public The Gazette might as well have the facts in the case, so he gave them as above stated.

The "combine" has decided that there was no money in selling coal at $7.50 a ton, so the price was raised to $8.00 a ton, yesterday.

Bandaged Spouting Arteries When She Cut Her Wrist.

A fruit can broke in Mrs. L. Paul's hand this morning, and the broken glass cut a deep gash in her wrist, severing the arteries. Realizing that she would bleed to death if the flow was not staunched, she wound a bandage about her wrist so tightly that it stopped the flow. She then summoned her husband from the field, and Dr. Mills dressed the injury.

THE OLD CELLO'S THANKSGIVING.

[On being recovered from a Genovese garret.] Thank heaven, the age of my shelving is past, This dust hidden page
 Of my history dear
 With a melodist's tear Is written at last—
 That long, bitter solitude netherward cast!
 A century flown! A hundred years long On my dim attic throne, Like a Theban of old,
 In my sepulcher cold
 I ruled, while the song On my heart kept a vigil unfading and strong.
 Gone, gone are the ladies in pearls and in laces,
 Those lordlings from Cadiz And Venice and Rome,
 All, all gathered home, While a thousand new faces Applaud my lovesighings and sibylline graces!
 The love I once bore in my tremulous measure Is dead, and the roar
 Of the battle is gone.
 The curtain is drawn
 On the dolor and pleasure—All sealed in my bosom, mysterious treasure!
 So I sigh, and I purr, and I moan as if now The glories that were Slept not on my heart, But by a new art
 They spring to the brow Of the master who rules me, he half wonders how.

COUSIN LINN.

"Young ladies, this is your cousin Linn," said our father, coming in to dinner one day and presenting a tall young man.

Helen and I giggled. Cousin Linn was tall, as I said, and he did not know what to do with his tallness. His embarrassment at sight of two grown and, I may say, handsome young ladies was plain.

"What a gawk!" we thought. Dinner did not much improve our opinion of our relative, and it was with dismay that we heard, as we left the dining room:

"Girls, I leave your cousin Linn to your devices this afternoon. I have no doubt you can entertain him." Then father strode out of the door and back to business.

The wretch—I mean our new relative, of course. That very afternoon we were to have paid a number of neglected calls that could not longer be put off.

Entertain him! Oh, yes, we would entertain him. And we did.

"Just wait," said my sister Helen between set teeth. "He shall show us how himself."

So when Cousin Linn had finished his cigar—he seemed to linger over it an unreasonably long time—and entered the parlor, his rather sheepish gaze met a batting of four light brown eyes, whose owners were prepared to make out whatever mischief he invited.

The first few moments passed tamely enough. Cousin Linn was a twig of a branch of the family tree that flourished in a neighboring state, too far away for us to know more than that we there boasted also an Aunt Lucy and a Cousin Kate. We put Cousin Linn down as an ordinary farmer boy, with a little more than his share of the farm and of the boy about him.

Just as we expected, Cousin Linn himself gave us the first hint of how he was best to be held up to the proper ridicule and scorn. In despair at our brief replies to his well meant conversational efforts, his eye fell upon the piano, and he, in gratitude of spirit, fell upon its neck. He asked us to play. Poor man!

Sister Helen began. Now, if there was one thing we girls prided ourselves upon, it was our musical talent and education, or, rather, we were proud of the talents and father of the education, which he had paid for with mingled feelings of satisfied duty and outraged pocket. But that day Sister Helen appeared possessed. She played nothing but the simplest tunes, jigs and reels and even had the audacity to pick out several good old hymns with one hand. I followed her lead, and our poor old piano was made to bring forth sounds that no self respecting cow would have died to.

"Can't you play, Cousin Linn?" asked Sister Helen. Law, that girl's smile was as innocent as a baby's, but it meant mischief for our cousin. That individual, who had applauded us loudly, looked at his shoes and said yes, he could play a little. He would try, even after our brilliant performance.

Cousin Linn's musical education had evidently been on the lines laid down in our programme. He reeled off country dances with the ease of a cow walking a railroad trestle. If our selections were rum-te-tumty, Cousin Linn's were rum-te-tumtier. And to watch him picking out the tune, using one, two or three fingers of each hand, his long hair bobbing about his ears as he ducked his head at every note, set us in a fit of silent laughter.

"Let's take him with us," whispered Helen as he neared the end of a "number." And of course I jumped at the idea of more fun with Cousin Linn.

"I'm agreeable," said that young man when we asked him.

He spoke better than he knew. So off we set. To every girl of our acquaintance we paid a visit, and at every house we made new sport of Cousin Linn and his piano playing.

First, we would play when asked, and always the same rum-te-tum tunes. Of course, the girls took the cue from a wink and did the same, while Cousin Linn sat there, his great eyes staring at his shoes, and saying never a word except "Yes'm" and "No'm."

Then, "Cousin Linn can play," one of us would demurely say, and Cousin Linn always toed the mark and the pedals.

So it went on. We left one household after another in convulsions of laughter, until we came to Miss Matilda Craig's. It happened that Miss Craig played first and we were unable to give her the cue. Poor, good Christian soul. She played the piano as she did everything else, as her conscience bade her, just the best she knew how. So after Miss Matilda had given us the "Turkish Retreat," the "Wellington Boots Quickstep," and other carefully selected selections, Helen and I could do no less. We thundered at Bach and trilled at Chopin in the best conservatory style we had been taught and snickered in our sleeves (they were wide then, too, my dears, but at the bottom and not the top). How Cousin Linn gaped. I actually thought the man's eyes would pop out of his head.

Then we made him play. He had to be almost dragged to the piano this time, but we were eager and curious to see him go through with his little jigs and reels again after our old masters.

So Cousin Linn took his seat at the instrument. Somehow, as he sat there idly fingering the keys for a moment, the stoop went out of his back and the dull look faded from his eyes, and he seemed almost handsome.

Suddenly he threw his head back like a warhorse and struck a chord. I never heard a like sound come from Miss Craig's old piano or any other. Grand and full and sweet, it sounded in the ears of our guilty consciences like the tramp of doom. Again he struck the keys, and we felt that if it had not been for the expense and trouble to poor Miss Craig we would have liked then and there to sink through her best parlor carpet.

Then our cousin flung back his long hair and started off in earnest. What it was he played I have never known, but if it be possible to crowd more runs, cadenzas, shakes, arpeggios and other tests of technique into one piece of music I have never heard that piece. The music seemed to flow from him like a river, and it was a pleasure to watch the swift and easy movements of his fingers. With hardly a pause and never a look from the player at his two shamefaced auditors, the tones of the piano drifted from the grand to the light and airy, from the classic to the modern, and finally into a soft and dreamy adagio that brought tears to the eyes that had just now before beamed with the laughter of mischief.

And all the while poor little Miss Craig looked on, with folded hands, and never dreamed what a tempest of remorse she had stirred up in two hearts.

Well, remorse meant repentance, and repentance meant reparation.

"We must take him back everywhere and show what he can really do," said Sister Helen as she lingered behind with me at Craig's gate, pretending to fasten my sash.

So back we went. Our faces, long as the shadows of the falling evening, told every girl friend that something was wrong, and when we had played and they had played and Cousin Linn had played they knew what it was. And when we had closed the last gate and turned homeward we were two sad and conscience stricken girls and one silent and solemn man.

But as we neared the house Cousin Linn's downcast eyes began slowly to turn toward us, and as they fell upon our woebegone countenances the preternaturally grave lines went out of his face like a dissolving view in a stereopticon, and he fell down—the man actually fell flat down in a fit.

And we solemnly picked up our skirts and left him there groveling in a convulsion of laughter that scared the birds from every tree in the block.

Cousin Linn came again to the house many times afterward. He often played for us, but the painful subject was never referred to. We did not consider him awkward any more. In fact, I was beginning to think him quite handsome when one day I came unobserved into the garden, where he and Helen sat, and heard her ask for the first time his forgiveness for the trick that had recoiled so shamefully upon us.

I thought the man would fall into one of his hateful fits and turned to go, but he only bent over her and whispered his reply, while I stole back through the trees to the house.

So the end of it all was that I had a new cousin, and, though she is three or four times removed, to this day I love her well, for she is my sister Helen.—Cincinnati Post.

Policemen as Models.

Phil May seldom lets slip a chance to play a practical joke. Not long ago he needed a policeman for a model. He went out into the street and accosted the first one he met, saying who he was and what he wanted. "Come to my house at noon tomorrow," said Phil May, and he gave the man his address. Then he walked on a couple of streets farther until he met another bobby. This one was also willing to pose, and he was likewise told to appear at noon of the following day. The artist wandered about London for several hours making appointments with policemen.

The next day at noon there was an entire platoon of police in front of Phil May's residence. A crowd collected, and the reason for such an array was freely discussed. Some asserted that a den of anarchists had been discovered and was about to be raided. Others hinted at a murder or at some other mystery.

A few minutes after 12 o'clock Phil May came to the door and invited all the policemen into his garden. There he lined them up and inspected them. He picked out the man most suitable for his purpose, then handed to each of the others an envelope containing the regulation fee for a sitting and dismissed them.—Pearson's Weekly.

Social Inequalities.

"Say," snapped the busy man, "my time is worth a dollar a minute—a dollar a minute. Do you hear?"

The stranger drew himself up stiffly. "Sir," he said, "I am an honest man." A look of pity came over the face of the capitalist. Up to that moment he had known nothing of the stranger with whom he had struck up an acquaintance while waiting for the car. He put his hand into his pocket.

"Ah, my poor fellow," he exclaimed, "I would that I could do more for you. But here, at least, is enough to get one square meal."—Chicago Tribune.

Drawing Her Out.

Miss Prima—I fear there is nothing in Miss Towels. Did you see her yawn while you were saying such beautiful things to her?

It has been held that consumption is hereditary, and the fact that one person of a family had died with consumption was considered a sure sign that others of that family could not escape it. This is partly true and partly untrue.

A man with weak lungs is likely to transmit that weakness to his children. But there is no reason in the world why the weakness should be allowed to develop.

Keep the lungs full of rich, red, wholesome blood, and the weakness will disappear. Decaying tissues will be thrown off, and new material will be added until the lungs are well and perfectly strong again.

This is the thing that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery does. This is what makes it cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption where it is taken according to directions. It searches out disease germs, wherever they may be in the body and forces them out of the system. It supplies the blood with rich, life-giving properties. It makes the appetite good, digestion perfect. Sold by all medicine dealers.

While Chicago was being defeated by the champions yesterday Boston was winning two games from St. Louis. This puts the Hubites dangerously close to Anson's cripples, and Pittsburg, too, is not far away. It was a good day for all the other western clubs. Cincinnati at last broke her losing streak.

CHAMBERLAIN IN AMERICA.

British Statesman Thinks Venezuelan Dispute Will Be Amicably Settled.

New York, Sept. 3.—Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, secretary for the colonies, arrived on the steamer Teutonic Wednesday. He was seen by a reporter and said: "I have not come to America to meet Secretary Olney and confer with him about the Venezuelan matter. Indeed, I have no appointment with Mr. Olney. My visit is purely a personal and domestic affair. The Venezuelan matter is not in my department. It rests entirely with Lord Salisbury. I do not think there is a man in Great Britain who wants to fight over the matter. I think it quite possible to establish a tribunal of conciliation, if it is not practicable to establish one of universal arbitration. If an arbitration court is established by sanction of all nations then there must be established a universal police to enforce decrees of the tribunal. I trust the Venezuelan matter will be amicably adjusted. While the action of the American commission is not binding, we look for their report with much interest and hope it will shed a bright light on the matter and that affair will be readily adjusted with satisfaction to all.

Call on Leaders to Retire.

Dublin, Sept. 3.—The Irish national convention resumed its sessions at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. Edward Blake, M. P., moved a resolution recognizing, as an essential element of an effective home-rule party, the hearty co-operation and cheerful subordination of each individual member of such party. John Dillon, M. P., chairman of the Irish parliamentary party, called upon the men "whose names were the shibboleth of factions" to meet in the autumn, abdicate as leaders, and choose a new leader, to whom all can give unbroken support.

United Brothers Split.

Anderson, Ind., Sept. 3.—The annual conferences of the two factions of the United Brothers' church closed Wednesday—the radicals at Hartsville and the regulars at Lincolnville. Both were largely attended. The Indiana conference of the radicals being small they met with the White Water conference at Hartsville. Bishop Halleck Floyd presided at this joint conference. The reports of both the radicals and the regulars show that each is gaining ground, and that the breach between them is getting wider instead of narrowing.

Earthquake in Japan.

Yokohama, Sept. 3.—Much alarm is felt here over a meager report of a great earthquake which occurred in the northeast provinces of the main island of Japan on Monday evening. The town of Rukogo has been entirely destroyed and several other towns severely damaged. Many persons are reported to have been killed by the earthquake and a still larger number injured, while a multitude have suffered severe losses by damage to property.

Democrats in New Hampshire.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 3.—The state democratic convention met here Wednesday. It adopted the platform of the Chicago convention, and pledged the members of the party to the earnest support of William J. Bryan and Arthur Sewall. A resolution indorsing the administration of President Cleveland was lost, and the gold men with land was lost, and the gold men withdrew from the convention.
